

Can I administer my own email accounts with your hosting service?

Can I administer my own email accounts with your hosting service?

Yes. All of our hosting plans come with "cPanel" which allows you to control many of the functions of your hosted environment. You can add and delete email accounts, make your own backups of your website, monitor your disk space utilization and much more.